AREAS OF APPLICATION:

EVT Hybrid Adhesive 007 HPHA is used for miscellaneous bondings, and the sealing of seams and joints in the construction of buildings (including glass and mirror), vehicles, and ships, as well as in mechanical, electrical, and ventilation engineering, and air conditioning technology. It may also be used on floor joints. Well suited for the use in public areas like schools, hospitals or prisons.

Depending on the stability of the surface, EVT Hybrid Adhesive 007 HPHA is additionally suitable for the sealing of interior and exterior expansion and connecting joints in civil engineering; it may be used on moist surfaces. EVT Hybrid Adhesive 007 HPHA creates elastic bondings between concrete, stone- and brickwork, metals, and plastics, as well as wood, ceramics, marble, etc. EVT Hybrid Adhesive 007 HPHA is suited for joints that have low levels of movement.

Due to its high hardness, after fully been cured it has antipick properties.

Calculators for the Industry New to Pulsar!

M.H. Mear specialise in the design of high quality technical calculators for solving sometimes simple, but usually complex, frequently recurring problems common to many industries. Mear calculators are innovative in design and technical detail, and capable of recovering their small cost in the time saved on the first few calculations.

Energy Efficient Heating Calculator

This calculator gives the heat requirements of new homes built to meet the improved standards of insulation laid down in the 1990 Building Regulations (i.e. wall & floors, $U = 0.45 \text{ W/m}^2\text{K}$, and roofs, $U = 0.25 \text{ W/m}^2\text{K}$). It also uses lower air change rates associated with the improved draught proofing of modern housing.

The reverse of the calculator gives radiator, boiler and pipe sizes in addition to the above and may be used for complete installation design. Model No. EE3 Metric

Domestic Heating Calculator

An instrument, simple and quick to use, which determines the heating requirements for older types of domestic premises and also the sizes of all the equipment needed for 'the installation'. Gives answers close to those obtained by detailed calculation. Imperial Model 14 (for outside wall U values 0.1 to 0.37 Btu/ft²/h/°F). Metric Model 15 (for outside wall U values 0.6 to 2.1 W/m² K). Complete in attractive case with comprehensive instruction booklet. 4 colour. 7-5/8" dia.

Conservatory Heating Calculator

For conservatories or garden rooms, this calculator determines the heat loss through the fabric of the room by setting dials to room dimensions, U values and temperature difference. Heat loss from air change is obtained by using room size or volume and the air change rate required. Single sided. 7-5/8" dia. in case with instruction leaflet. Metric model only.
